

NAZI GENERAL FACES 2 DESPERATE ALTERNATIVES AS ALLIES INCREASE PRESSURE IN THE TUNISIAN AREA

One is Last-Ditch Fight Behind Formidable French-Built
Defenses of Mediterranean Naval Base;
Other is Flight To The South

(By International News Service)
Increasing pressure by American and French forces in Tunisia who are closing pincers of steel on Bizerte today left Nazi Gen. Dietrich Von Arnim facing two desperate alternatives.

One was a last-ditch fight behind the formidable French-built defenses of the Mediterranean naval base. The other alternative was flight southward, to join already hard-pressed Axis forces now before Tunis, for a last stand there or on Cap Bon, easternmost point in Tunisia.

Prongs of the Franco-American pincer were almost at the gates of Bizerte. An Allied column pushing east along the northern shore of Lake Achkel was within nine miles of the doomed naval base. French units to the north were unofficially reported only seven miles away.

The Americans were at the half-way mark in their drive towards Bizerte northward from captured Mateur. Further south, another column of the 2nd U. S. Army Corps pushed within six miles of Tebourba and the British First Army was only eight miles to the southeast in the joint drive for the plains before Tunis.

Here Americans had entered Ed-dekhlia in the drive from Djebel Tahent, whose capture last week led to collapse of the Axis defenses in that area.

Flag Displays To Honor Mothers of Servicemen

HARRISBURG, May 6.—(INS)—Flag displays next Sunday were suggested today by Gov. Edward Martin as a "special tribute to Pennsylvania mothers who have sons in service."

"At this war-torn period, Mother's Day, Sunday, May 9th, should be more reverently observed than ever before," he declared. "It is fitting that even in the midst of the gravest crisis in the history of this nation, we pause to pay homage to our mothers or to the memory of mothers who are no longer with us."

YARDLEY LIONS MEET

For the first time in the history of Yardley Lion's Club a meeting other than a dinner meeting was held in the Yardley community center on April 26th. The meeting heard a report by Joseph Loth, chairman of the military affairs committee, of the work of the committee on the honor roll plaque which the club was instrumental in sponsoring. President T. Sidney Cadwallader reported on the progress of the Scout troop. He mentioned that Robert Daugherty, scoutmaster, had plowed and prepared for planting a victory garden to be operated by the scouts. The club decided to offer prizes for the best victory gardens. Edwin P. Alexander, president of the American Model Railroads Inc., spoke on his most unusual business, the manufacture of minute-scale railroads. He demonstrated with model trains that he had made for many of the major railroads.

UPPER AND LOWER MAKEFIELD TOWNSHIPS WILL REQUIRE 568 ADDITIONAL FARM EMPLOYEES

NEWTON, May 6.—According to a partial survey made by the United States Employment Service, the Townships of Upper and Lower Makefield and Newtown will require 568 additional laborers during the third quarter of 1943. Although this is but a partial survey of about 47% of the farms in the County and although the County Agricultural Extension Agencies have largely taken over the problem of farm labor, this survey shows the background of need against which the George School Farm camp is placed.

An increasing number of farmers are utilizing George School students whose academic marks justify their release for farm work and requests are coming in increasing numbers for workers during the harvest seasons. Present reports show that 290 man-days of work were done by the George School Emergency Work Squad.

Against this need T. Sidney Cadwallader, director, reports that there will be almost two applicants for every place in the camp. This figure excludes the applicants from the Philadelphia area which will be available in hundreds as worked

MAIL CARRIER AND A TRUCK DRIVER PLEAD GUILTY

John Major, Solebury; Geo. A. Werner, Bethlehem, Admit Drunken Driving

BOTH ARE SENTENCED

Witnesses Say Major Had Been "On Wagon" For
At Least A Year

DOYLESTOWN, May 6.—At a session of miscellaneous court held Tuesday, John Major, 43, Solebury mail carrier and truck driver, pleaded guilty before Judge Keller to a charge of driving while drunk on February 2nd, on Clark's Hill, Route 202, near Lahaska. Major was arrested by Pvt. Jones of the Motor Police who testified that he was boisterous when arrested and when examined by a New Hope physician.

Major testified that he was later examined in Lambertville by his own doctor who found that he had received a concussion of the brain and a broken nose in the accident the day that he was arrested, and had been walking around in a daze for more than a week afterward.

John B. Tomlinson, Amos Armistead and Daniel Hendricks, all of Solebury township, testified as to Major's reputation being "very good." All three witnesses stated that Major had been "on the wagon" for at least a year or more to their knowledge. The day that he started to drink, Major said he did so because he was somewhat upset over a death in his family.

Judge Keller imposed a fine of $200 and costs on Major. George A. Werner, Sr., of Bethlehem RD. a farmer, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Keller to driving while drunk at Quakertown when his car collided with another car. The court imposed a fine of $200 and costs and directed that Werner pay the damage to the other car owner within 30 days.

"They Got Me Covered" Is Coming To Grand

Bringing the top favorites, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour, together for the sixth time on the screen, "They Got Me Covered," now at the Grand Theatre, is a sparkling romantic farce of a foreign correspondent's troubles with a band of enemy agents.

In this production Hope plays the role of Bob Kittredge, Moscow correspondent of the Almagamat News Agency, who muffs the German invasion of Russia and is called home in disgrace and violently discharged. Going to Washington to visit his girl friend, Christine Hill (Dorothy Lamour), Kittredge gets a tip on a sensational story regarding Nazi spy activities in this country and hastily goes after it.

Trilled by Gestapo gunmen, the informer is unable to give Kittredge the information, but subsequently dictates it to a stenographer friend of Christine's. The Nazis get the girl's notebook and then, unable to read her shorthand, kidnap her.

Kittredge, urged on by Christine, tries desperately to find his informer-friend, but falls into the hands of the Nazis instead. Fearing an investigation if they kill him, the spies evolve an ingenious plot to discredit Kittredge and make him the laughing-stock of the country.

BOMBS OVER BIZERTE

Obviously Rommel's last stand
in North Africa will be at Bizerte.
He can not hope to hold on long to Tunis, a city which is entered by numerous roads over a level plain. Provisioning not only an army within the city and its suburbs but the 200,000 inhabitants precludes its successful defense against forces converging upon it from two sides and hammering it constantly with long-range ordnance.

Bizerte offers Rommel greater defensive advantages. It is reported that the Axis, apparently foreseeing that it will be subjected to heavy air assault, has concentrated its anti-aircraft guns at this point. When Rommel recedes into this refuge, Allied aircraft will give a demonstration of the power of the modern plane in the siege of a defended city.

FLYING FORTRESSES

It has been disclosed that the big B-17 Flying Fortresses have carried up to ten tons of bombs on experimental flights. The exact method of loading the bombers, which are designed to carry a normal load of approximately three and one-half tons in their bomb bay, naturally is not disclosed, but it must be evident that the greatly increased load can only be accomplished by carrying bombs under the plane's wings.

By fitting a two-ton blockbuster bomb on each wing of a Flying Fortress, plus a maximum load in the bomb bay with special stowing arrangements, the plane would have a bomb load of at least eight tons. Some refinement of this method has evidently been made to enable the "Forts" to lift ten tons of live bombs for a short haul.

These experiments for increasing the bomb capacity of the No.
1 American bomber apparently are a confirmation of the recent prediction by Maj. Gen. Ira C.
Eaker, of the United States Army Air Forces, that American bombers soon will join the RAF in night raids over Germany. The increased bomb load, while enabling the American planes to match the tonnage transported by British bombers, will have to be accomplished at a sacrifice of range and maneuverability.

Hence, although the Flying Fortresses have proved that they can lift ten tons of bombs, it may turn out that the largest practicable load for combat purposes will be around six or seven tons.
Even so, such a load would put the Fortress in the running with the British Lancasters, which can carry eight tons over a range of 3,000 miles, for night bombing of Germany.

But night bombing does not allow the Fortresses to make the fullest use of their peerless bombsight (daylight is required for the greatest accuracy) and their heavy defensive armor. One practical solution which has been suggested is to assign the super-loaded bombers to daylight bombing.
The heavily loaded planes would be more vulnerable to enemy fighter-plane attack and so would approach the target under cover of darkness and release the bombs
at dawn.

The Yellow signal was received at 10:02; Blue, 10:20; Red, 10:40;
Blue, 10:50; and the All Clear at 11 o'clock.

People continue to make phone calls despite the appeals of the Bell Telephone Co., and the Army, that no calls be made during an air raid test. The switchboard at the Bristol police station started to hum
just as soon as the first Blue signal was sounded.

The Control Center was well staffed this morning, practically all of the services being represented.

As soon as the official All-Clear
was received all of the police boxes were rung as a means of notifying the wardens and police on duty in the vicinity.

School children out in the school yards for recess periods immediately ran inside the buildings when they heard the first Blue.

Firemen were reported on duty
at several of the fire houses.

Letters To Editor

(The opinions expressed in the following communications are not necessarily those of the editor.)

Editor of Courier:

I'm a soldier who is sick in the station hospital at Camp Campbell, Ky. I'm a native of Bristol, born and raised there. My mother is living at 702 Corson street, Bristol.
All I want you to print in your paper is how good the Red Cross is.
It cheers you up, gives you things you need, and workers are around you every time you need them. They are working 24 hours a day to cheer up sick soldiers in the hospital. They have writing rooms and different games for us to pass the time. They give us ice cream, coffee, smokes of all kinds.

All I want to say is tell everybody in my home town to give all they can because if they have a boy
in the service I'm sure the Red Cross will help him. I know that my mother is helping make sweaters, and she knows they are helping me.

Very respectfully yours,
CPL. JOHN A. MOERL

PRESS COMMENT

INGLORIOUS SURRENDER

"The House Republicans, in swallowing their disappointment at the defeat of the Carlson pay-as-you-earn tax plan and advocating prompt adoption of some compromise measure, are displaying a higher order of statesmanship than those on the Democratic side who take the view that nothing can be done on this matter before fall, or possibly next year.

"The indisputable fact is that the great majority of the taxpayers want a pay-as-you-go system this year. Behind this failure of the Democratic leadership to respond to the wishes of the majority lies a distressing story of petty jeal-ousies, confusion of purpose and oversensitiveness. The pay-as-you-go question is one of the most vital domestic issues facing the country today. Yet Congress, under its rules of procedure, is powerless to act because a few men are more interested in discrediting the Rumi plan or in maintaining their own prestige than in serving the best interests of the taxpayers who are being called upon to dig down and finance the war."

Rescue Squad to Unfurl Flag In Honor of Members

The parade will move over Cedar avenue to State Road, Excelsior avenue, and over Maryland avenue to the Rescue Squad headquarters.

An interesting program has been arranged, and is announced today in part by Robert Porter, chairman. The Bristol high school band, and the Bristol Cadets will take part in the parade, and also play selections as part of the program. Anthony Russo, chief Bucks County detective, will be the master of ceremonies at the flag unfurling exercises, and the following have been announced as speakers: Colonel Churchill Williams, head of the Civilian Defense units of Bucks County; Major Price, head of the emergency police of Bucks County; and James Edward Harris, executive director of defense units of Bristol Township.

Nazi General Faces Two Desperate Alternatives In The Tunisian Area

At the southern end of the Tunisian front, the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio said, Axis troops near Pont Du Fahs were threatened with encirclement. French forces in that sector braved heavy artillery fire and advanced several miles towards Djebel Zaghouan, on the left flank of the British Eighth Army pushing up from the southeast coast.

Fierce battles marked the Russian offensive aimed at blasting German troops from the Western Caucasus, where capture of 19 towns was announced by the Russians.

Krimskaya, important rail junction, was among the points captured when the Red army smashed through a Nazi defense line 15 and one-half miles long to a depth of eight miles. The break-through cost the Germans 7,000 dead.

Today's midday communique said the Soviets inflicted heavy losses in manpower and equipment on the Nazis as Red army units overran numerous enemy fortifications and several strongpoints northeast of Novorossisk, Axis-held Black Sea naval base. In one sector alone 400 Germans were reported killed and much booty seized.

In the Pacific war theatre, where Gen. Douglas MacArthur observed the first anniversary of the fall of Corregidor by calling that Manila bay rock fortress "America's Holy Grail," the Japanese faced new and formidable threats.

Washington, ignoring a blustering threat from Japanese Premier Hideki Tojo that the Japs were about to unleash a "crushing blow" on America and Britain, hailed the mass Liberator raid on the Japanese island of Hainan and Jap-occupied Haiphong in Indo-China as a harbinger of more and increasingly bigger bomber raids from China on Jap bases closer and closer to the heart of Nippon.

American forces in the South Pacific meanwhile continued their assaults on Japanese outposts north of Australia. Today's communique from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said American Liberators of his command wrought heavy destruction in a dusk raid yesterday on the important enemy base at Wewak, New Guinea.

Braving heavy anti-aircraft fire and fighting off nine Zeros, the Allied pilots scored several direct hits on a 5,000-ton cargo vessel, which they left ablaze and listing, probably damaged two other ships and set off enormous explosions and fires in the area.

In addition, Billy Mitchell medium bombers fired barracks and wharves at enemy-held Tocal, in the Kei Islands, between New Guinea and Australia.

Honor Roll Unveiling To Mark Mother's Day

YARDLEY, May 6—In appropriate Mother's Day ceremony next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Yardley and Lower Makefield will honor its men in service by unveiling an honor roll. The plaque will be located on property next to the bank, and the Yardley National Bank is donating electric current. Already the standards have been erected, and only the addition of the nameplates remains to be completed.

The amount needed for the sign has been subscribed, and any surplus funds will be held in trust to keep the honor roll up to date, and for a more permanent plaque to be erected after the war.

Dedicate A Fighter Plane For Bristol

American soldiers from seven cities in the United States named after the original City of Bristol in England. They were guests, during a two-day celebration, of the Lord Mayor and the city.

Now serving in infantry units somewhere in England, the soldiers dedicated the plane at an aircraft factory where the fighters are rolling off the production lines. In addressing the employees of the plant at a dinner, Corp. DiLissio stated: "The workers engaged in industrial plants are of paramount importance because, on the home front they are supplying tools with which the men in the army work."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick DiLissio, 326 Brook street, the corporal entered the Army on May 12, 1941, and is now acting squad leader of a 37 mm. gun crew. His sister, Josephine, and two brothers, Michael and Eugene, are all working in defense plants.

Pvt. Borelli is the son of Louis Borelli, 815 Pine street, and worked in a rubber plant before entering the army on December 10, 1941. In addition to being an efficient anti-tank gunner, he holds the 135 pound boxing championship in his outfit.

Saunders Held Under Bail for Grand Jury

rendering into fertilizer. It had been cut, however, in such a manner as to indicate it was to be handled by butcher shops, they insisted before the U. S. Commissioner.

"This meat was obviously intended for the food market," said Dr. Elkan H. Yunker, chief of the city health department's meat and livestock division.

Saunders was fined $100 and costs by the city prior to his appearance before the federal commissioner.

Saunders claimed he was actually jacking the meat to a rendering plant and insisted the carcass was "backed up" and not cut in "primal parts."

Federal agents said an investigation proved that Saunders had bought the meat for $8 from a "dead animal contractor." Saunders was arrested after crossing the Burlington-Bristol bridge.

It is his second offense. Last March he was arrested and fined on another meat black market charge.

A surprise twist developed today as the aftermath of the indictment of 19 men and two corporations which control 90 per cent of Philadelphia's whole sale live poultry industry.

Some 550 retailers declared they will close their shops next Tuesday for the duration—or until the Office of Price Administration "smashes the black market and ends maldistribution."

At a joint meeting of the Live Poultry Dealers' Association and the Associated Butchers of Philadelphia, it was complained that the poultry sellers who followed OPA advice "now find they cannot obtain poultry in any market—black or white."

The indicted group, meanwhile, was charged with making more than $400,000 in illegal profits during the extreme poultry shortage of recent months.

The defendants are accused of boosting prices as much as 20 cents a pound through "upgrading," giving short weight, demanding bonuses and false billings.

Bucks County To Get $23,488.02 For Roads

Highways, Secretary John U. Shroyer announced today.

Included in this amount is $23,488.02 for Bucks County.

The payments are due June 1st. The 1941 session of the General Assembly appropriated $5,500,000 to be paid to the township supervisors for the years 1942 and 1943 from the Motor Fund for construction and maintenance of roads under the supervision of the township supervisors.

Under the Act, Secretary Shroyer said, supervisors are required to submit two reports to the Department of Highways this year—one on May 31, and the other on November 20—showing the cost of the work. The remaining payments for this year will be made in September and December.

There are 45,137 miles of road in the Commonwealth under the jurisdiction of the township supervisors. The allocation for 1943 amounts to $94.15 for each mile of road now under the jurisdiction of the second-class township supervisors.

For the calendar year 1943 the Motor License Fund allocation totals $4,250,000, half the appropriation made under the 1941 Act.

SERGEANT PAT OF RADIO PATROL

Bauer-Reed Nuptials Are Solemnized at Eddington

EDDINGTON, May 6.—The marriage of Miss Gladys M. Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Reed, of Bristol Road, Bensalem Township, to Mr. Charles G. Bauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bauer, of Andalusia, took place at four o'clock on Saturday in the Eddington Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Arthur D. Sargis performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Betty Moats was guest organizer, and Mr. Roy Didick sang two solos.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Robert H. Reed, wore a gown of white French marquisette over Duchess slipper satin. The form-fitting lace bodice had a low heart-shaped neckline edged with lace, and the full skirt formed a long train. Her tulle veil of sweetheart design fell in cascades, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Ada Ross, acting as maid of honor, wore a graceful ankle-length bouffant gown of blue with skull cap and veil to match. The bridesmaids, Miss Betty H. Graham and Miss Sally Edwards, wore similar models of pale pink. Their bouquets comprised pastel shades of spring flowers.

Mrs. David Reed, mother of the bride, wore an attractive dusty pink ensemble, while Mrs. George F. Bauer, mother of the groom, was dressed in a gown of blue with white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses and carnations.

Mr. Harold H. Robinson served as best man, and the ushers included Mr. Charles W. Heritage and Mr. George Beckins.

Others attending the reception were: Mrs. May L. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dunk, Miss Elsa S. Charles, Miss Marion White, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckins. After the wedding repast, the young couple left for New York from whence they will honeymoon along the Hudson. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Bauer will reside in Frankford.

Almighty and Eternal God, by whose hand all things were made that are made; in whom we live and move and have our being, be with thy servants around the world as they are striving to implant in the hearts of men the glorious gospel of Jesus Christ Thy Son. Help them in their most important work, which is being so dangerously impaired because of world conditions. Grant unto them sufficient strength that they might persevere, and grant unto us sufficient interest that we might support them constantly with our prayers and with material assistance in accordance with the blessings we have received from Thee, Through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Extras who portrayed Norwegian villagers weren't fooling either. They were real Norwegian refugees.

Portraying a forthright G-Man of the Range, Roy Rogers makes another of his welcome appearances in extra-budgeted westerns in "King of the Cowboys."

COUNT FLEET TO BE WELL BACKED
AT THE PREAKNESS

Urging the Kentucky Derby Winner On Toward
Belmont Stakes

STARTS ON SATURDAY

That Reigh Count's Son
Will Win is Foregone
Conclusion

By Lawton Carver
(I. N. E. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 6.—(INS)—Any horse that can win the Kentucky Derby must be good. Any of them that can win both the Derby and the Preakness must be a little better than good. Any that can win those two and then go on to the Belmont Stakes must be rated among the super-greats of the turf. Thus Count Fleet will start in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday with a gallery rooting for a victory and looking ahead to that day when he will join those few who have won all the three big races in one year.

That the son of Reigh Count will win the Preakness has been accepted as a foregone conclusion, with the result that possibly only three horses will challenge the big horse from the John D. Hertz barn. Blue Swords, which was second in the Kentucky Derby, Vincivine and New Moon look like the only candidates for a drubbing against the Hertz star.

Owners who saw the Count run in the Derby as a follow up to previous performances are convinced that he can be beat only with the aid of an accident and they don't plan to stand around paying entry fees while waiting for a broken leg. Thus they will begin ducking the Count from here on.

The Preakness is going to be an empty victory, if the Count wins as expected. He would be hailed more loudly with more competition. Blue Swords looks like the one that has a chance to score an upset, if any can.

Another thing about Count Fleet, everybody is trying to build up the opinion that he is some kind of a freak horse that does everything wrong.

They say he runs with his head too high and has other faults. Still it is a notable fact that he keeps on winning and sometimes sets records. That's about all you can ask.

Getting away from horses as every one should sooner or later before he winds up so far in back that he won't ever get out, it is interesting to note that the Brooklyn Dodgers have lost only three out of twelve baseball games this season and thus lead the National League.

No telling what they will be doing by the end of September, but right now they look like a good ball club—and actually, of course, they are the ones the St. Louis Cardinals must catch. The latter have won four out of 11.

The Dodgers are old and slow and not what they used to be, but because they are old they are wise and the Cardinals are not going to run away with the pennant without first getting a tussle.

Over in the American League the New York Yankees are out in front with eight wins and three losses, to be leading Cleveland by a fraction.

The Dodgers and the Yankees have the pitching, as was pointed out earlier in the season and on that basis they can wind up in the next World Series.

Bean Jack, in training at Greenwood Lake for his bout with Bob Montgomery is wearing out sparring partners who try to climb hills or row boats with him, with the result that he either will be able to go the two last rounds fast for the first time or he will be so worn out that he will be belted over the ropes.

Bean Jack will be the favorite in the fight, by slender odds.

OUTFIT THE OUTFIT

"Dear Mom" (Willie writes), "The mosquitoes out here are as plentiful as fleas on a stray pup. And the way those stingers bite! I guess the Japs told 'em the Yanks were coming and to be sure to save up their appetites."

It's enough to fight the Japs without battling mosquitoes too. Mosquito hammocks, like this, protect Willie, at least while he's sleeping. Cost, $16.50. Outfit the outfit out fighting for you. Buy that extra Bond today.
